Eisenhower Says Johnson Did Right Sending Marines To Protect U.S. Citizens

HARRISBURG (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said today that President Johnson did "a sensible thing" in sending Marines to protect American citizens in the strife-torn Dominican Republic.

"I have nothing to criticize, certainly," he added. "It looks like the President has things under control. There is only one man who can handle foreign relations and that's the President. It looks to me like he's done a sensible thing."

Eisenhower commented on the Dominican situation during a trainside interview following his return, with his wife, Mamie, from their annual winter vacation in Palm Desert, Calif.

RED INVITATION

Asked for comment on a report that he and Gen. Omar Bradley, one of Eisenhower's World War II commanders in Europe, had been invited to Moscow for the 20th anniversary of V-E day, Eisenhower said:

"When I was in London for Sir Winston's funeral, I did have a conversation at lunch with Konev (Marshal Ivan Konev) and he said I ought to come to Russia. It was a pleasant, nothing specific."

Eisenhower said he had no plan to make the trip and he added that he had turned down a request by a Russian news agency for a statement on V-E day.

"SAVED FRANCE"

"I told them I am preparing a statement (on V-E day) for American news organizations and that it will be ready for May 8," he said.

Eisenhower was asked to comment on the various recent actions of President Charles De (Continued on Page 2)

FURNEY TELLS HOW SOLDIERS WON MEDALS

An Adams County man was among the six members of the Sixth Pennsylvania Reserves who won the Congressional Medal of Honor during the Battle of Gettysburg.

F. Harmon Furney, speaking Thursday night at the meeting of the Gettysburg Civil War Round Table in the GAR home, E. Middle St., stressed the participation of Thaddeus Stevens Smith in outlining the "History of the Sixth Pennsylvania" to the Civil War buffs.

Furney, a past president of the Round Table, a battlefield guide and local postal employee, reported on his efforts to learn why one regiment, the Sixth, won approximately one-tenth of all the Medals of Honor given in the local battle.

VISITED DESCENDANTS

Visiting descendants of members of the six who won the award, Furney obtained the official army papers of Thaddeus Stevens Smith and learned that he was a native of Adams County, born near Caledonia, and that he entered the army at age 14. The six members of the Sixth actually received their Medals of Honor 34 years after the battle, Furney said. The medals were based on an incident which occurred late on the afternoon of July 2, 1863. The Sixth Pennsylvania was the northernmost of the Pennsylvania Reserve units on the north side of Little Round Top and Confederate snipers in a log house northwest of the position (Continued on Page 2)

2,500 More Marines Sent To Santo Domingo To Help Protect American Lives

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department announced today that two battalions of the U.S. 82nd Airborne Division—about 2,500 men—were landing at the San Isidro Air Base near Santo Domingo to reinforce 1,700 Marines already in the Dominican Republic.

"U.S. and other nationals who remain in the city are in the most serious danger," the State Department announcement said.

The two-day-old military junta appealed for intervention by American troops to help restore order, but U.S. officials said action other than to protect American lives and property would require authorization from the Organization of American States.

FEAR RED RUSS

However, President Johnson's administration was authoritatively reported in Washington to be on the alert for action to meet any Communist threat to take over the Dominican Republic or plunge it into a Communist "war of liberation."

U.S. officials in Santo Domingo released a list of 52 members of Dominican Communist organizations who they said were believed to have played key roles in the six-day-old rebellion. Beside the name of each man was the Communist country where he was said to have been trained—Cuba, China or the Soviet Union.

The rebellion was launched by a group of young army officers seeking to return ousted President Juan Bosch to office. But U.S. officials in Santo Domingo and other observers believe no one now is in control—or could regain control—of the armed rebel bands, which include many young civilians.

OLD "TROLLEY BARN" WILL BE REMOVED SOON

Gettysburg is going to lose its "trolley barn" which has been a landmark on N. Washington St., at the railroad, for about 75 years.

The big structure, which once housed the plant of the Gettysburg Electric Co., and the trolleys which toured Gettysburg and the battlefield, and then for many years was the "rubber heel factory," will be torn down, Julius H. Swope, 301 Ridge Ave., announced today.

Swope last week purchased the property from the Victor Products of Pennsylvania Corporation, headed by Ray M. Hoffman as president.

The building was vacant from the end of the trolley service in 1914 until about 1920 when the "Surefoot Heel and Rubber Co." took over the building. Later it became Sullivan Heel and still later Victor Products. At one time 9,000,000 rubber heels a year were made there.

After the rubber heel plant closed several years ago, the machines that had made the heels were removed, and the structure used for warehousing and various purposes. More recently it has been vacant.

The property has 109 feet on the Washington St. side and extends 210 feet eastward along the railroad.

Swope said he plans to have the building demolished along (Continued on Page 3)

SAY WARNER DIED FROM BROKEN NECK

The death of Albert G. Warner, 59, Bendersville truck driver, who was fatally hurt Thursday morning when his vehicle overturned off the Gettysburg-Biglerville highway, was caused by a broken neck, an autopsy revealed this morning.

The Adams County coroner, Dr. C. G. Crist, said the examination was held to determine both the actual cause of death and whether Mr. Warner may have suffered a heart attack or have had some seizure immediately preceding the accident, in an effort to find the cause for the crash along a straight stretch of road near Sheffer's park, four miles north of here.

The examination, Dr. Crist said, showed no signs of heart condition or other cause of the accident, and disclosed only the broken neck as the cause of the death.

When ambulance attendants arrived at the scene shortly after 7:30 Thursday morning, they found Mr. Warner in the cab of the wrecked truck, which had apparently left the highway and plowed along a bank before turning over on its side. The veteran of more than 30 years of truck driving for Knouse Foods was attempting to turn off the switch to the engine of the truck, and his only words to the ambulance attendants (Continued on Page 2)

A concert of contemporary choral music and works from earlier periods of music history will be presented by the 40-member choir of Juniata College, Huntingdon, in the Methodist Church here Sunday morning at 1:45 o'clock.

A feature of the choir's church program this season is a set of three choral numbers by the contemporary Belgian-American composer, Jean Bergar, of Denver, who has taken texts "From the Bay Psalm Book." ## BAR DISCUSSES CONSTITUTION FOR THE STATE

"Project Constitution," a proposal by the state Bar Association that the coming year be devoted by the attorneys to promoting establishment of a new constitution for the state, was discussed by the Adams County Bar Association at a dinner meeting Thursday evening in the Hotel Altland in Abbotstown.

The attorneys were told that William W. Litke, president of the state Bar Association, is urging Project Constitution as the principal subject for activities by the bar associations during the year.

To provide information to the general public on the need for constitutional revision, the bar association plans to provide speakers for a number of organizations, starting with the Lions Monday night.

"LAW DAY," TOO

The members were told they will receive bulletins on constitutional revision from the state bar association.

"Law Day—U.S.A.," which will be marked Saturday throughout the nation, was also among matters discussed. The local committee for the event includes Attorneys Donald M. Swope, Donald P. McPherson Jr. and Charles W. Wolf. The committee reported that an hour long television program on Law Day will be presented over Channel 2, Baltimore, Saturday afternoon.

Preliminary plans were discussed for observance of Law Day in Adams County next year. Among programs suggested were courthouse tours similar to those provided for the school children each year, and possibly a mock court trial with Dickinson Law School students participating.

President Attorney Franklin R. Bigham appointed Attorney Eugene R. Hartman to the project constitution action committee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Attorney Richard A. Brown and appointed Attorney Eugene V. Bullett chairman of the ethics and grievances committee to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Brown's death.

essay to the students. She said in part: "If any American should be asked what he is against, he would answer 'communism' without hesitation. It has been said that if an American should then be asked what he is for, he would not really know. This is not true. We know that we stand for individual freedom, democracy and peace throughout the world.

Our forefathers fought desperately to obtain the freedom we have in America now hold. We must not let this fire of patriotism die, but keep it burning stronger and stronger within the citizens of our country. We are trying to spread Americanism abroad. This does not mean we are trying to duplicate American conditions on foreign soil.

LIKE NEW YEAR'S DAY

"In a sense loyalty is something which is born within us and reaffirmed through the years. The struggle is not over. We as the youth of America and leaders of tomorrow must not sit back and watch, but should take an active part in spreading our belief throughout the world.

"Loyalty Day could be compared to New Year's Day. On New Year's Day we think back over what has happened during the year and make resolutions for the future. On Loyalty Day, I feel, we should take time to think of our great inheritance and how we ourselves can make this world an even better place for future generations to live. It is also a time to give thanks to God for His guidance and this wonderful land of ours and especially for making us Americans. This is what Loyalty Day means to me."

CITIZENS GIVEN

Water St.; Philip Hill, Gettysburg R. 1; Rodney Decker, Gettysburg R. 4; Sally Lott, Gettysburg R. 4; Debora Miller, 434 W. High St.; John Gildersleeve, Gettysburg R. 2; Gene Schaut, 452 S. Washington St.; Kathy Orwig, 568 Hillcrest Place; Linda Smith, Gettysburg R. 6.

Past Commander Swisher told the students that "Loyalty Day was launched by the 1,300,000 members of our organization—the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. Then Congress and our President gave Loyalty Day official status. They declared that this should be the special day upon which every man, woman and child in the United States gives some visible evidence of his or her pride in being an American—and to proclaim again his or her determination to defend our country and all of our freedoms from the threats of communism, fascism, Nazism, cynicism, pessimism and every other destructive ism."

Miss Nancy Murdock, president of the Gettysburg High School Student Council, introduced Commander Swisher. The color guard from the VFW included Charles R. Moser, John Edward Kerrigan, Norman W. Myers and John McCreaf. Members of the Auxiliary of the VFW on the stage for the presentation were President Mary Fridinger, Mrs. Dorothy J. Pinko and Mrs. Robert E. Fox. tion, the J. Welkert House, were inflicting a number of casualties on the reserves. A Sgt. Miers called for five volunteers and the six men headed for the log house, where they captured 13 Confederate snipers, without a single casualty.

DANGEROUS SKIRMISH

Because it was a squad action, little note was taken until members of the regiment learned later the basis for a number of other Medals of Honor given to members of other regiments. They filed their claim, giving the details of the brief but dangerous skirmish, and all six received medals.

Furney said his investigation revealed that the Sixth was one of the top fighting outfits in the Army — but it never gained that listing because of its low casualties. The list of the "300 fighting regiments" established by Colonel Fox after the war did not include the Sixth, Furney said, because "Fox mistakenly felt that casualties were proof of the fighting ability of a unit. The Sixth suffered low casualty rates because of the superb training and marksmanship of its members and its ability to take advantage of every opportunity."

SAVED UNION ARMY

He described the role of the Pennsylvania outfit in the Peninsula, Second Manassas, Antietam, Fredericksburg and Gettysburg campaigns. The Sixth, he said, saved the Union Army from destruction at Second Manassas.

Furney said nine brothers served in one company of the Sixth and their father "was turned down because he was 70 years of age."

LIST WINNERS IN AREA FFA TRACTOR RACE

Richard Wagner, New Oxford High School student, won first prize Thursday afternoon in the annual tractor-driving competition held by the Adams County Future Farmers of America Activities Association.

Ten students were entered in the event held at New Oxford, two from each of the five high schools in the county which have Future Farmer of America chapters. Most of the contestants were selected by competitions held within their own FFA chapters.

"OLD GUARD" WILL PRESENT FEATURE HERE

Captain John G. Campbell, representing the 3rd Infantry "Old Guard," inspected sites this week in the Gettysburg area where the unit will give a demonstration of "History of the Stars and Stripes" on Sunday afternoon, June 27, in connection with the battle anniversary program sponsored by the Gettysburg Fire Department. The program will be accompanied by the U. S. Army Band and is said to be a most colorful and inspiring presentation. Captain Campbell was accompanied by Mayor William G. Weaver on the inspection tour.

The two units, stationed at Fort Meyer, Va., are probably two of the best known in the entire army and their performances have been viewed by dignitaries from many parts of the world.

CEREMONIAL UNIT

The "Old Guard," officially known as the 1st Battalion (Reinf), 3d Infantry, is the foremost ceremonial unit in the Army. Its many duties include serving as personal escort to the Presidents, marching as lead element in the Inaugural, Armed Forces and other parades, guarding the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, planning coordinating and executing state funerals and conducting military funerals in Arlington National Cemetery, participating in arrival and departure ceremonies for American and foreign dignitaries and performing in various military drills and pageants.

One of the most important obligations of the 3d Infantry is to render the best possible impression of the U. S. Army to the American public and to all national and international dignitaries.

COLONIAL GARB

The colonial garbed color team of the "Old Guard" will wear the blue and white uniforms of the original 3d Infantry, which are exact replicas of the uniforms worn by enlisted men of the Regiment when it was organized in 1784.

The U. S. Army Band, known as "Pershing's Own," is the Army's finest musical organization. It is under the direction of Lieutenant Colonel Samuel La-bota, who is the band's fourth commanding officer.

The history of the band dates back to General John J. Pershing who first conceived the idea of an Army band when he commanded the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe during World War I.

General Pershing helped direct the organization of the band in 1922 and it has been an Army tradition ever since.

Today's Talk

RESENTMENTS

One reason why so many people are unhappy, not knowing why, is that they have overburdened their minds with resentments. These evil thoughts pile right on top of happier and generous ones and smother them so that they never get expression.

Resentments are a form of hate. There are those who resent the good fortune of others, or their success. They think they should have the same, not realizing that what that other one has gained has been through much sacrifice and hard work.

Nations have these resentments, as we all learn from the reading of our newspapers. And they too often have led to war. What a dearth of goodwill and cooperation there is among human beings and nations! What a world this would be if we all worked together, and as a popular diplomat once expressed it — "played together!"

Resentments in the mind are like poison, and they work fast when they get into the blood. Keep them out of your mind and that mind will see the good in people and emulate it as a valuable personal asset. When we are tolerant and think well of others they think well of us. Simple, isn't it? And so easy.

We all have these resentments at times but we ought to keep them in a dark corner where they will soon die out of their own inability to get into the light. It's in the light where they thrive and cause damage and heartaches. It's best, however, never to allow them to get into your mind in the first place. They are liable to squeeze out when you are least aware that they are around!

President Lincoln didn't hold resentment toward one of his generals who snubbed him by making him wait outside his tent. He merely remarked that he would gladly hold the general's horse if he would bring the country victories! Keep these resentments out of your mind and consciousness and you will be amazed how happy a road you will be traveling.

BOY TREASURES

A little boy is one who brings into the home the strangest things, which to discover he had thrilled, but keep his mother's bloodstream chilled.

Not knowing anything of germs, He'll gather turtles, frogs and worms, And proudly bring them home to show, As once did I long ago.

The mother of a little boy Has terror blended with her joy, For in his pockets she may find Beetles and bugs of every kind.

All little lads through boyhood's term Love things that crawl and creep and squirm, And in their pockets cherish much That mothers cannot bear to touch.

Sermon For The Week

REV. DR. HOWARD S. FOX
Pastor

Trinity United Church of Christ

THE GOOD SHEPHERD PSALM

The attention of the Christian is directed toward the Good Shepherd at this particular season of the year. One cannot help thinking of the 23rd Psalm when this idea is presented. This is one passage of the Holy Scriptures very closely allied to every Christian heart. Perhaps there is no other passage so familiar to the multitudes than this one. It has been meditated upon so often and so deeply that all the truth it contains has been discovered and its very last drops of sweetness have been extracted.

One shrinks from saying much about it, because of the risk that is taken of marring its perfect beauty. The exquisite bloom of the flower is soon spoiled if you begin to handle it. Surely the heart of the author was filled with beauty when he spoke of the good shepherd, the green pastures, the still waters, the comfort of the rod and staff, the anointed head and the goodness and mercy of the Lord. Where is there a keener mind, a more beautiful imagination?

It is the words of experienced manhood. We witness the outpouring of the heart of one who shared the trial and troubles, of life, but who found the Lord his refuge and strength. This is not the bright but baseless optimism of youth. This is not the cheerfulness of the untried. This is the testimony of one who has been through the fire; this is the witness of a man who has struggled in the flood's deep waters. This one testifies what he knows and has seen. He has faced life's difficulties, disappointments, crushing sorrows, and here we have the resulting testimony that God has been so kind and faithful a shepherd, that he has absolutely no fear as to what the future might hold for him. His temper is one of serene and happy trust. "The Lord is my shepherd."

Emphasis can be laid upon the word "my" because he wants us to understand that the relationship was a personal and individual one. God loves the individual "This poor man cried and the Lord heard him." His care is a personal love. He calls his own sheep by their name. St. Paul directs our attention to the fact that the Son of God loved me and gave himself for me. Everybody can say the same thing, even the humblest creature of the universe. If one of a flock of 100 sheep had gone astray he left the 99 and sought after the stray member until he found it. So the Lord's love is an individual love. His redemption is an individual redemption.

"LACKED NOTHING"

To be able to say "I shall not want" is to utter a tremendous statement about God. This has always been true about God. Moses looking back over the care taken by the Lord of the children of Israel said: "These 40 years the Lord has been with thee; thou hast lacked nothing." The man who knows that God is caring for Him need have no care about himself. "Be not anxious, what you shall eat or drink or what you shall put on; consider the lilies how they toil not neither do they spin, and yet your heavenly Father cares for them. Are you not greater than they?"

We have to commit ourselves within the care and keeping of God and we too shall be able to say "The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want. Surely His goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life and I shall dwell in the house of the Lord forever."

"And behind the dim unknown standeth God within the shadow, keeping watch above His own."

The future holds the secret, and it's anyone's guess! He may be a great statesman some day . . . or maybe a world-renowned athlete or actor . . . or perhaps a scientist . . . but most likely, just Mr. Average.

Of course, a lot will depend on his opportunities, his God-given talents, his character, and his training.

Anything could go wrong along the way — poor health, bad examples set by his parents and associates, a broken home, neglect, and false values. But why make a list? The possibilities for this child's failure in life are so numerous that it makes us shudder — and the worst of it, we can guarantee him nothing. But we can give him hope and faith.

Standing ready and anxious to help him is the Church and the precepts which it teaches. It is our duty and our privilege to help spread the spiritual principles of Christian living in practice as well as in word so that the youth of our nation will find some meaning to the path of life which so strangely twists and turns toward some hoped-for goal.

NEW SCHOOL SUBSIDY PLAN IS DEFENDED BY GOVERNOR

By PAUL ZDINAK
Associated Press Writer
HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Scranton says the dollar value of all increases—both federal and state—should be kept in mind in any analysis of his proposed new school subsidy system.

"Thus, from all these sources, it can readily be seen that both Pittsburgh and Philadelphia school districts alone will benefit by at least $41.4 million if the new subsidy program is enacted," he said.

Of this, he added, Pittsburgh would stand to gain $8.4 million and Philadelphia $33 million. The figures were contained in a statement distributed at the start of Scranton's weekly news conference Wednesday.

REJECTS RUMORS

During the conference he was asked to comment on some talk that new taxes would eventually be required if the subsidy program is adopted.

"I don't accept the talk," said Scranton.

The governor added that the economy of the state was continuing at an upward pace and that this would provide a strong basis for new and improved programs in all fields, including education.

ANSWERS CRITICISM

Wednesday's statement apparently was an effort to answer criticism from some big city political leaders, including Pittsburgh Mayor Joseph M. Barr, that the subsidy proposal would not greatly help Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

In other news conference highlights:

Call Issued For Bank Statements

HARRISBURG (AP)—A call was issued today for the condition of all state banks and trust companies as of the close of business April 26.

The call was issued by G. Allen Patterson, secretary of banking.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal banking regulatory agencies issued a call Thursday for a statement of condition of banks at the close of business Monday, April 26.

Bloom—Scranton said he will appoint George I. Bloom as chairman of the Public Utility Commission. Bloom, presently secretary of the commonwealth, was appointed to the PUC by Scranton last week and confirmed by the Senate Tuesday.

The presidency — Scranton good-naturedly brushed off questioning concerning the GOP presidential nomination for 1968. The interest should be with the election this year and in 1966, he said.

TO MEET NIXON

GOP politics—Scranton said he planned to meet with former Vice-President Richard M. Nixon in June to discuss Republican party matters.

Milk—The governor denied a published report that he already has made up his mind to retain the Milk Control Commission and to retain state power to regulate prices of milk.

Scranton said he hoped to have legislation ready in about a month that would tighten regulations in the state's milk industry.

Civil rights—Scranton said he was hopeful of bipartisan sponsorship of a package of civil rights bills soon to be introduced by his administration.

Hospital applications—Job applications will be available henceforth for anyone at all health department hospitals. Last week a Democratic legislator complained that applications for the jobs at a tuberculosis hospital, operated by the State Health Department in Philadelphia, could only be obtained through the county Republican chairman.

CONGRESS TO TRY AGAIN TO "MODERNIZE"

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, frustrated and unhappy over creaky procedures many members feel are more suited to horse and buggy days, is going to give reorganization another whirl.

One expert in the field, Sen. A.S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., put it this way:

"We in Congress now are attempting to run a business 10 times as large as AT&T, the Santa Fe Railroad and General Motors combined, with machinery as obsolete as a quill pen, a slanting bookkeeper's desk, and an old-fashioned high stool."

Both Senate and House have voted unanimously to set up a joint committee to conduct hearings and make recommendations on ways to improve the organization and operation of Congress.

Monroney, cochairman of the joint committee, is approaching the reorganization job with enthusiasm although he concedes "there is not much glamor in it."

"There is very little that can be done in a grand-slam spectacular way to improve the functioning of democracy," he said in an interview.

"Reform will come through 25 or 50 changes, each contributing its share to modernization."

Monroney is an old-timer in this field. As a House member 20 years ago, he joined in setting up a similar Senate-House committee whose work led to the 1946 LaFollette-Monroney Act.

That reorganization law was widely praised but Monroney now says it is evident that the law had its failures as well as its successes.

Out of his analysis of the experience with the 1946 law and his observation of new problems, Monroney believes these are some of the areas in which the new committee can make a contribution:

1. Organization of more effective procedures for Congress to meet its responsibility for acting on federal budgets that have now reached the $100-billion level.

2. Development of a system to start Congress to work earlier in each session, so that the members can complete their work annually by August.

3. Overhauling of the committee structure to distribute the workload more evenly and bring under control the dozens of subcommittees which have sprung up in recent years.

4. Authorization for additional experts to work for members of Congress and the committees, such as certified public accountants for the appropriations committees.

Pressure for the new reorganization effort was strongest from members disgusted with the increasing length of annual sessions. In 1963, for example, adjournment did not come until after Christmas.

AUSTRALIA TO SEND TROOPS TO S. VIET NAM

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Prime Minister Sir Robert Menzies announced in the House of Representatives Thursday Australia will provide an infantry battalion for service in South Viet Nam.

Sir Robert said the decision had been made on request of the South Vietnamese government for further military assistance.

Defense Minister Shane Pattidge declined to say when the battalion would leave and where it would be deployed in South Viet Nam.

REPORT 800 MEN
Government sources had reported earlier that Australia would provide up to 800 army troops for combat duty with U.S. and South Vietnamese forces.

An Australian contingent of 800 men would be the second largest unit from any of America's allies in South Viet Nam. South Korea has 2,000 troops there, but they are primarily a work force to build and repair roads, bridges and railways.

LONG CONSIDERED

Government sources said the decision to send Australian combat forces is not a result of the visit to Canberra last week by U.S. presidential envoy Henry Cabot Lodge. The Australian Cabinet had considered the idea of a more positive involvement in Viet Nam for some time before Lodge's visit, the sources said.

Lodge is touring friendly Far Eastern and Pacific nations to drum up support for U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Australia already has in South Viet Nam about 100 jungle combat advisers and a Royal Australian Air Force transport unit. The jungle advisers, like their U.S. counterparts, are not classified as combat troops, but they have been in combat areas for months and have suffered casualties in action, including Nam struggle."

3,000 OTHER TROOPS
The U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, Maxwell D. Taylor, told Italian newsmen earlier this month that "aside from the United States, the nationals of supporting nations in South Viet Nam number over 3,000." He said 37 nations have provided support or are about to give support to South Viet Nam.

The Sydney Sun said New Zealand is reported also to have agreed to provide further military aid to South Viet Nam. The newspaper said "observers believe that the underlying aim of the Australian and New Zealand decisions will be to influence Japan and the Philippines to give greater direct aid to the American cause in the Viet Nam struggle."

Even though you never go near the water, the time is ripe for a tune-up. Lovely skin is its own reason for being. Here's the regimen:

● Add a water-permeable bath oil to your daily bath. If you're a shower fan, spray with shower oil before going under.

● To smooth rough or flaky areas, use a loofah sponge on them during baths.

● Treat especially troublesome spots—knees, elbows, skins—by massaging with grainy cosmetic cleanser.

● Once cleansed and dried, massage with hand or body lotion. Or use an after-bath oil spray.

● Whenever you apply lotion to your hands, whisk some on your elbows.

Reds Hold Young British Teacher

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet police have arrested a young British teacher named Gerald Brooke and filed a charge of an undisclosed nature against him, a British Embassy spokesman said today.

The London Daily Mail said Brooke was held on espionage charges, but the embassy said it "has not been told the precise nature of the charge."

The spokesman said the Russians have not answered two embassy requests for permission to see Brooke.

He was arrested Monday when Soviet police broke into a Russian apartment. His wife was present and notified the embassy.

SEES CONTROL OF HAY FEVER POLLEN GRAINS

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—With the aid of an airplane, a physician says he's found clues to help victims of hay fever and asthma.

The clues involve the way warm air currents and cool air carry around the pollen grains and mold spores triggering these ailments.

Atomic fallout is apparently moved about in much the same way, so "we are not helpless in our control of fallout" or of pollen, Dr. Herman A. Heise of Milwaukee, Wis., said today.

"We can avoid much of it by staying in the warmer city rather than in the cooler country. Smoke screens and the resulting clouds prevent radiation of heat, thus minimizing fallout," he told the Aerospace Medical Association.

"Our findings indicate we can prophesy pollen counts as accurately as we can prophesy the weather," he said. "Yesterday's (pollen) counts may be interesting, but tomorrow's estimate has practical value" for victims of hay fever.

Heise and associates, in a private plane, trapped and counted pollen grains and mold spores at heights up to 20,000 feet.

A simple mechanism seems chiefly responsible for the rising and falling of these solid particles, he said.

TEMPERATURE CHANGE
"When the earth is heated by the sun, the lighter warmer air at the surface balloons upward through the cooler air, causing instability, and the upward currents carry the tiny solid particles into the clouds and haze layer," Heise said.

"At night with clear skies, conditions are reversed. The earth cools by radiation, so that the air above now is warmer than the air near the ground. Upward currents cease, and the now-stable air allows the particles to settle. The haze layer actually drifts earthward, carrying the particles with it."

ASKS STATE TO SHOW CAUSE OF LIQUOR SEARCH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court directed Pennsylvania's highest tribunal Thursday to determine whether state officials had probable cause for a search of an automobile containing 375 bottles of liquor not taxed by the state.

As a result of the search, by officers of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, the state sought forfeiture of the automobile.

Pennsylvania law says no property rights exist in any vehicle used in illegal transportation of liquor, the vehicle is deemed contraband, and the board may begin forfeiture proceedings.

NEW PRINCIPLE
Justice Arthur A. Goldberg, speaking for a unanimous court, announced a new legal principle.

This is that the federal Constitution's 4th Amendment protection against unlawful search and seizure and the 5th Amendment's protection against compelled testimony, apply in such forfeiture proceedings.

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court had ruled that the federal protections apply only to criminal prosecutions, and were not applicable to such a forfeiture proceeding. The state court said the proceeding was civil in nature, rather than criminal. The state court said that, because of its position, it did not need to review the holding of the trial court in Pennsylvania that state officials lacked probable cause to stop the automobile and search it for contraband.

DOCTOR DELAYS FISHING TRIP TO AID NATIVES

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Like many vacationbound Californians Dr. Frank C. Winter thought of Baja California, Mexico, two years ago when he set out for some deep-sea fishing.

But instead of marlin, the Stanford Medical School ophthalmologist found an appalling number of blind and near-blind villagers when he set down in San Jose del Cabo.

He set aside his tackle. In six visits Dr. Winter performed more than 100 operations for cataracts and other disorders. For hundreds of villagers he prescribed glasses — all donated by the Parsons Optical Co. of Palo Alto, Calif.

On each visit the word was spread by Dr. Eduardo Rodriguez, district medical officer. By mule, truck and on foot the people came to the village's 40-bed hospital.

AIDS BLIND YOUTH
One was a 9-year-old boy, blinded in the right eye by a stick when he was a baby. His left eye had an open sore in the cornea.

"In the United States he would have had an emergency operation immediately but the general practitioners in Baja have not had the chance to specialize in eye work," Dr. Winter said.

"Since there were no fresh corneas available for transplant when I first saw the boy last year, I fashioned a temporary patch by using tissue from his blind eye."

From the eye bank in Palo Alto a fresh cornea was flown in and Dr. Winter performed a successful operation.

There was no charge to the impoverished family or to any of the families of those he treated.

But the villagers collected some money and had a medal made.

"Con gratitude Dr. Winter," the inscription reads.

State Legislators To Vote Selves Another Increase In Salary Effective In '67

By JACK LYNCH
Associated Press Writer
HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania's state legislators, already the fourth highest paid in the nation, are planning to vote themselves another salary increase.

The only question is how much. Informal committees have been appointed to survey salaries and compensation in other states to come up with a figure.

The most frequently heard figure is $3,000 over the $6,000 salary, plus $3,000 expenses the state's 259 assemblymen now receive.

Another committee exploring staff salaries reportedly is ready to recommend a 20 per cent boost for the 357 legislative employees.

SECRETIVE ABOUT PLAN
The lawmakers, as usual, are being secretive about plans for their own salary increases, although they would not become effective until 1967.

But the House Appropriations Committee has decided to withhold all proposed salary increases — including a $10,000 boost for the superintendent of public instruction requested by Gov. Scranton, and increases for department heads and other state employees—until the legislative package is completed.

RAISE IN 1959
Pennsylvania legislators last raised their salaries in 1959 and it was a pretty hefty one, going up from $6,000 plus $3,000 expenses every two years to the same amounts for one year. It became effective when the legislature went from biennial to annual sessions in 1960.

That put the Keystone state behind California, Michigan and New York in the salary schedule, and those three states have had recent increases.

Pennsylvania lawmakers become positively goggle-eyed when talking about the California legislature.

GET SALARY PLUS
The Golden State pays its lawmakers $6,000 a year, plus $128 weekly during the legislative session. It grants $15,000 a year for an office and staff in a legislator's home district and either pays him $250 a month travel expenses within the district or gives him the unlimited use of a state auto, gas and oil included. But that's not all, he is paid $25 a day for up to 60 days for official work between sessions, $50 a month for postage and telephone use and all the stationery and calling cards he request.

Pennsylvania does pay 10 cents a mile once a week for round trips between a legislator's home and the Capitol, while California pays only 5 cents.

USE OF SECRETARIES
Pennsylvanians get nothing above the $3,000 for home district clerical expenses, but while at the Capitol the legislator has use of a secretarial pool and state phones.

Michigan ranks second in legislative salaries, paying $10,000 a year salary, plus $2,500 expenses. New York pays $10,000, plus $1,000 expenses. Ranking behind Pennsylvania, Texas pays $4,800 flat, plus $12 a day for up to 120 days for expenses. Wisconsin is next with a $4,500 annual salary, plus expenses of $15 for a maximum of 20 days.

Information on legislative pensions was not readily available, but Pennsylvania must rank at or near the top. Our lawmakers receive a minimum monthly pension of $12.50 and a maximum of $25 for each year of service. Thus, a 20-year man can retire at full pay, $500 a month.

There are other emoluments connected with being a legislator that are not widely known. Many members of the legislative staff are used as personal messengers, babblers, bootblacks, and, when the occasion demands, mixologists.

SHORT WORK WEEK
Legislative salary increases always raise the criticism that in most weeks the lawmakers are in Harrisburg only two or three days.

That's true of many lawmakers, but many others, especially the leaders, must spend additional time in preparation or in committee work.

One prominent lawmaker said his work is not confined to the Capitol, that he is kept busy at home handling requests and problems of constituents.

The question of need also arises.

UNDERPAID EMPLOYEES
In the case of the employees, who have not had a salary raise since 1959 (a 10 percent boost was killed by the House in 1963), most of them are dedicated, working and vastly underpaid for the amount of work they do in these days of long and voluminous legislative sessions.

There seems to be little need in the case of most legislators. Virtually every one of the 49 senators have well-paying occupations or professions. Only one lists himself as a professional legislator.

Thirty-four House members list themselves as legislators, three are retired persons, 14 are what would be called working men and the rest are professional and businessmen.

REDUCES INCOMES
Most legislators counter the argument that they sought out their seats with the contention that service in the legislature reduces their ability to make money in their regular occupations.

It's impossible to ascertain the extent of possible loss, but some legislators, particularly lawyers (there are 24 in the Senate and 44 in the House), will admit that they got into public service to enhance their professions. Many legislative lawyers take cases before state agencies, a privilege not accorded to other state attorneys.

1874 SALARIES
Starting in 1874, when Pennsylvania went under its present constitution, lawmakers were paid $1,000 a biennium, plus $10 for every day a session lasted beyond 100 days. The travel allowance was 20 cents a mile.

That was increased in 1885 to a flat $1,500, plus 20 cents a mile. The next increase didn't come until 1919, when the salary was raised to $2,500. It went up to $3,000 in 1927, but mileage was reduced to 5 cents.

DEPRESSION CUT
The only cut in state history came in 1933, a depression year, when it went back to $2,500. The cut was restored in 1937 and in 1947 a $2,400 clerical assistance allowance was added. The clerical fund was raised to $3,600 in 1951.

Gov. William C. Sproul, approving the 1919 increase, said: "Of course, it was never contemplated that a place in our legislative bodies should be a post of profit—the honor and the opportunity for public service which is given here is a proper recompense for the time and trouble involved."

"But it surely was never intended that a commonwealth so great and so favored as Pennsylvania, those called to vital public service must suffer such serious personal loss that only those with ample private means may afford to aspire to the positions. The doors of our lawmaking bodies must be open to all of our people, and citizens of vision and ambition must not be deterred from trying for the election because the compensation is insufficient to at least reimburse them for the expense incurred in performing these public duties."

MORE CIGARETTES, GREECE
ATHENS (AP)—Greeks smoked more cigarettes last year than ever before. The Finance Ministry said 13,516,183 kilograms of tobacco were used in the production of Greek cigarettes, 199,211 kilograms more than in 1963.

American distillers employ 1,600,000 persons.

Costly Trip For St. Louis Cards

MILWAUKEE (AP) — It probably cost the St. Louis Cardinals a pretty good chunk of money to visit Milwaukee for their three-game baseball series with the Braves.

Despite 67-degree weather at game time, only 2,182 fans turned out at County Stadium for the series finale Thursday night. That brought the three-game attendance to 5,183.

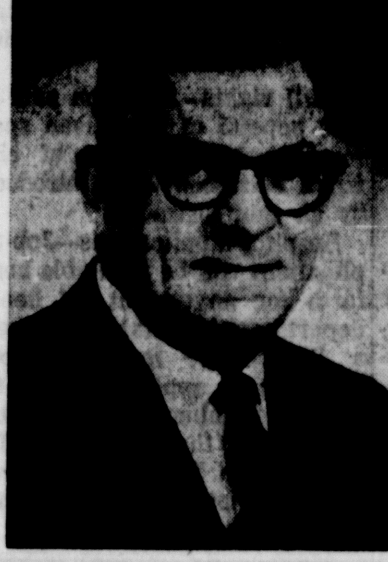

The Cardinals received the regular visiting-club share of 27½ cents on each dollar. On that basis, the club pocketed less than $2,000. Hotel, meals and travel expenses far exceeded that.

NEXT TOUR BY ABC IN GREECE MONDAY NIGHT

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It is very probable that a team of producers named Phil D'Antoni and Norman Baer have done more for arm-chair rubbernecking than anyone since the days of Burton Holmes of the lectures and Fitzpatrick of the movie travel talks. They invented, for all practical purposes, the television star-guided tour.

Perhaps Princess Grace's dignified "Tour of Monaco" a few seasons back was the seed, but the idea really blossomed with "Elizabeth Taylor in London" and "Sophia Loren in Rome," the first two D'Antoni-Baer super-travelogues. Their success not only established the production firm but brought them a flood of offers by the great and near-great eager to guide future TV tours.

PLANNING SPECIALS
Coming up next Monday is their special "Melina Mercouri's Greece," on ABC.

"You don't want stars who are seen very much — and that immediately eliminates all the popular television names, except Bob Hope, who is in a special category. We did have some preliminary talks about a 'Lucille Ball in Ireland' — she's Irish of course — but it couldn't be worked out," Baer said.

Next season, in addition to turning out a couple of their specialties, Baer and D'Antoni will produce six ABC specials starring Robert Preston. Each will explore the geography and characteristics of a different region of the United States.

VETERANS ASK PROBE OF FILM

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Two Philadelphia veterans' groups have asked State Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandrini to look into the presentations of a Communist propaganda film at two campuses of Pennsylvania State University.

The telegrams, issued by the County Council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion's County Council, protested a film produced by the Vietnam and depicting alleged American atrocities in Viet Nam.

The film was shown April 8 on the school's Ogontz campus in Abington and Wednesday night at the main campus at University Park.

The narrator for both programs was Russel D. Stetler Jr. who attempted to send medical supplies last year to Communists fighting in Viet Nam.

Presence Of Marines Stirs Latin Americans To Accuse Violation Of OAS Treaties

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.S. landing in the Dominican Republic aroused criticism and bitter memories among Latin Americans today. "They'll be stoning U.S. embassies all over," said one Latin American diplomat at the United Nations.

President Raul Leon of Venezuela, in telegrams to President Arturo Illia of Argentina and Eduardo Frei of Chile, was reported to have termed the U.S. action an "invasion" and a "violation of the treaties of the Organization of American States."

Frei replied that he agreed completely.

NO PUBLIC RESPONSE

There was no immediate public response from Illia.

Frei called for "common action to bring to an end the bloodshed among the Dominican People and to avoid a dictatorship of any kind."

Peruvian Foreign Minister Fernando Schwalb said it was understandable that the U.S. government wanted to protect its citizens. But, he added, "in this case this has been done in detriment of the sovereignty of an independent nation."

Schwalb said the U.S. action violated the charter of the Organization of American States and said Peru "condemns in all its forms any interference or tendency against the personality of a state."

PAKISTAN IS DETERMINED TO HOLD LAND

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—Pakistan turned down Indian terms for a cease-fire in the disputed Rann of Kutch area today.

A government spokesman said the Indian-Pakistani fighting could not end on terms suggested by Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri.

India demanded restoration of the status quo before the fighting erupted April 9. This would mean Pakistan would have to withdraw from areas it considers to be Pakistani.

Washington and London are both trying to bring an end to the fighting in the barren wasteland about 150 miles southeast of Karachi. British and American envoys in both countries have been actively working for a cease-fire.

MOVE DEEPER
An official Indian spokesman charged in New Delhi Thursday night that a Pakistani brigade—about 3,000 fighting men—was moving southwest from Biar-Bet deeper into Indian territory in the Kutch and was being shelled by Indian guns.

Pakistani Defense Minister Y. B. Chavhan would not give details of the fighting, saying "it would not be in the interests of the security of the forces fighting there."

An official Indian spokesman said the Indian army would make a stand "at a place advantageous to us."

India has claimed 300 Pakistanis have been killed, wounded or captured. It put Indian losses at 65. The Indians also claim to have destroyed 10 U.S.-supplied Pakistani tanks.

Pakistani Maj. Gen. Tikka Khan said 350 Indian troops have been killed and that only about 20 Pakistani soldiers have been killed. He said 45 Indians have been captured, including two officers.

Calls Student Rebels Healthy

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A Stanford University psychiatrist says that "to say students are rebelling in order to gain control and run the universities makes about as much sense as saying that because Negroes in America want civil rights they seek to overthrow the government."

Students, says Dr. James Paulsen, are simply transforming healthy resentments into rebellion.

He told the American College Health Association Thursday that adults often demand an end to student demonstrations because "it is awkward to have youth point out deficiencies in adult behavior and to initiate leadership where we provide sham and ineptitude."

URGE U.S. AID TO RED CHINA

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. (AP)—An expert on Asian Affairs and a seminary president have urged the United States to give diplomatic and economic recognition to Red China and to admit her to the United Nations.

The men—The Rev. Dr. John C. Bennett, president of Union Theological Seminary in New York City, and Dr. John K. Fairbank, director of the East Asian Research Center at Harvard University—spoke at the United States Conference of the World Council of Churches here Thursday.

Dr. Fairbank said that bringing Red China into the U.N., "would be our smartest move in the current situation."

"Offering to drop our opposition to Peking's entering the U.N. may influence Peking in the direction we want," he said.

Earlier in the annual three-day conference, 200 church leaders drafted a resolution to the U.S. government, noting that limitations the Turkish government has placed upon the Eastern Orthodox ecumenical movement patriarchate in Istanbul.

Pakistani Forces Seize Oasis In Baked, Barren, Desolate Battleground

By DAN COGGIN
BIAR-BET, Kutch (AP) — Pakistani forces claim they scored an easy victory over Indian troops in a four-day battle that ended with Pakistani occupation of this oasis in the baked, barren Rann of Kutch.

It is one of the most unlikely and desolate battlegrounds on earth. Soon the heat-scoured wastes will become marshy tides, covered by water from the Arabian Sea whipped up by monsoon rains.

The temperature reaches 120 degrees during the day. The desert shimmers in the blinding heat.

FIGHT AT NIGHT

Pakistani field commanders said almost all fighting takes place at night, when the heat subsides. The darkness also allows more freedom of movement across the empty flats where during the day one can see for miles.

Troops are dug in around the oasis which is several miles long. Some Pakistani tanks are parked nearby. No villages or civilians can be seen.

The Pakistani officers talked lightly about their combat experience.

"We would have pushed them clear to Bombay," a captain said with a laugh. He said his troops suffered no fatalities in taking Biar-Bet and that the first evacuee was a wounded Indian.

HEAVY LOSSES

The Pakistanis said they captured the oasis Monday night, inflicting heavy Indian losses. Biar-Bet is five miles south of what India claims to be its western border in the disputed Rann of Kutch area.

Maj. Gen. Tikka Khan said 350 Indian troops had been killed in heavy fighting since April 9. Khan, Pakistani commander in the Kutch, said only about 20 Pakistani soldiers had been killed. He said 45 Indians had been captured, including two officers.

India claimed 300 Pakistanis have been killed, wounded or captured and put its own losses at 65.

ADVANCE 20 MILES

Khan said his patrols had pushed 20 miles south into what India claims as its territory all the way to the 24th Parallel, which Pakistan says is the boundary line. The disputed area is 150 miles long and 20 to 25 miles wide. Both sides are reported to have moved thousands of troops into Kutch, possibly a total of 30,000.

During the hour newsmen were at Biar-Bet, artillery shelled what were said to be Indian positions a few miles away. There was no return fire and no Indian troops were seen.

The newsmen were shown American aid ammunition cases which Pakistani officers said the Indians left behind. India has charged that the Pakistanis are using tanks supplied by America. Both countries are pledged not to use American aid.

CLAIMS TEST VIOLATE MAN'S PRIVATE LIFE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher, D-N.J., asked his colleagues Thursday if they would like to answer such true-false questions as these in order to get a job in Congress:

I feel very guilty about my sins.

I like Westerns on television. I am contented with my sex life.

I love my mother. I sometimes think that I failed in love.

Flirting is often a lot of fun. This test, he said in a speech prepared for the House, was uncovered by House investigators in government files and is an example of the kind of psychological questionnaires some federal employees and job applicants have to take.

PRIZE QUESTION

This particular test, he said, goes on for 300 questions "but question 221 really takes the cake." It asks, true or false: I find answering these questions to be a rather unpleasant task.

"I guess if you answer true to that one, it makes you suspect," said Gallagher, a member of the House Government Operations Committee. Gallagher contended that Americans' right to privacy is being assaulted by "electronic eavesdropping, mail checks, peepholes in work areas and restrooms, trash snooping and

FRIENDS FIGHT TO KEEP MAN FROM PRISON HE HAD FLED

CHANDLER, Okla. (AP) — Jim Fleming's friends, trying to keep him out of a California prison from which he escaped nearly two years ago, have trapped him in another prison from which there can be no escape.

The new prison has no walls and there are no guards — except Fleming himself.

"If I run again now, too many people I love and respect will get hurt," said Fleming, 32, who until late March was just another car salesman to residents of this town of 3,000 persons.

Then a Federal Bureau of Investigation poster, identifying Fleming as an escapee from the Folsom State Prison, came to the attention of Sheriff L. P. Orr. Fingerprints established the wanted man's identity.

Fleming's wife, Lee Anne, fainted when Orr told her about her husband whom she met in West Virginia.

When she recovered she said, "A change in name doesn't change a person." Mrs. Fleming, mother of two daughters — three and six years old — by a previous marriage, said the girls "dearly love him. That's the man I know."

STORY-LIKE BATTLE

Fleming marveled at what has become a story-like battle to keep him from returning to Folsom, where he was serving a sentence of one year-to-life for robbery. He had been in prison for 30 months.

After his escape, he began a year-long journey through Nevada, Idaho, Canada, West Virginia, Kentucky and finally to Oklahoma. He obtained an Oklahoma driver's license, using the name "Jim Miller," a Social Security card, a fishing license, and then a marriage license for his wedding in July 1964. He came to Chandler in September.

100 SIGNED PETITION

After his true identity was disclosed, 100 Chandler residents signed a petition attesting to his good character and asked clemency from California authorities.

Fleming was released in custody of George Totten, his employer, and Curtis Walker, a minister who posted $2,500 bond. Now he awaits Oklahoma Gov. Henry Bellmon's action on California's request that he be returned.

"I know that legally I've got no hope," Fleming said. "I hope Gov. Bellmon will give me a break. I put him on a spot. I know."

"I don't want to go back. A man lives on hope."

other equally alarming intrusions."

But, he contended, that instead of Uncle Sam being in the forefront of the fight against such privacy invasions, some U.S. agencies are among the chief offenders.

ROBOT POINTS FINGER AT 86 TRACK MAKERS

By GEORGE ESPER
NEW YORK (AP) — A computer which normally evaluated income tax returns was idle.

So, federal law enforcement officials decided to feed it some gambling information from bettors, agents, police and other sources. No income tax information was used, the officials said.

The computer evaluated such information as bookmakers' work sheets, the movements of bettors and bookmakers, geographical patterns of betting and the methods and amounts of payoffs.

POINTS FINGERS

Finally, it pointed its electronic finger at 86 alleged bookmakers. What's more, federal authorities said, the computer revealed the size of their yearly turnover as between $300 million and $400 million.

The 86 were indicted on charges of violating federal laws requiring gamblers to register with the Internal Revenue Service and purchase $50 wagering stamps, it was announced Wednesday in Brooklyn by U.S. Atty. Joseph P. Hoey. Conviction carries a maximum penalty of a year in jail and a $10,000 fine.

BACK ON JOB

The computer — a Honeywell 200 — with a batch of commendations, is back at its income tax job in the Philadelphia office of the Internal Revenue Service.

Hoey said that if the information the computer handled had been processed by man alone, the three-year statute of limitations would have expired.

Hoey traced the origin of the indictments to the arrests about two years ago of 11 persons on bookmaking charges. None of the 11 were among those indicted Wednesday.

Information seized when the 11 were arrested, including records from a telephone answering service, provided the groundwork for the current case.

The computer clicked off the names of 14,000 bettors in the metropolitan area. Information was obtained from 8,000 of them. It was fed back into the computer, and led to the indictments.

There are 171,000,000 telephones in the world.

Offer To Trade Art Exhibitions

LONDON (AP) — A marble bas-relief by Michelangelo is being offered on loan to the world's museums in exchange for a chance to exhibit their art treasures in Britain, the president of Britain's Royal Academy announced Wednesday night.

Sir Charles Wheeler told the academy's annual dinner negotiations are already under way for the Russians to borrow Michelangelo's Tondo, one of the Renaissance artist's few sculptures outside Italy.

ASKS PASSAGE OF VOTING BILL

OXFORD, Pa. (AP) — Gov. Scranton called Thursday for "speedy passage" of the Johnson administration's civil rights legislation now pending before Congress.

"The time has come for every American to dedicate himself to the concept of fair and equal opportunities for all men," Scranton declared in a speech prepared for Founder's Day exercises at Lincoln University.

Using the predominantly Negro university as a forum for his strong civil rights declaration, Scranton said:

"Of fundamental importance right now—even as we gather here today—is the guarantee to all Americans, whatever their color, of the right to vote.

"Because this right is now so blatantly denied Negroes in some of the states, it has become abundantly clear that we need effective, speedy passage of federal legislation now before Congress to guarantee that every

CLARK SEEKS OFF-YEAR BAN OF ELECTIONS

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., proposed Thursday the abolition of off-year congressional elections and called for wholesale changes in Senate rules to deal with ethical and other problems.

Clark's proposed rules changes would eliminate some pet filibuster weapons, generally try to speed daily Senate proceedings and spell out methods for policing the ethical conduct of senators and their staffs.

The Pennsylvania Democrat has fought in vain for some of the rules changes for many years.

BROADER POWERS

He would arm the Senate Rules Committee with broad powers to recommend to the Senate disciplinary action against offenders ranging from reprimand to suspension or expulsion from office or employment.

Clark did not mention the apparent relationship between some of the ethics policing he demanded and disclosures made by the rules committee in its recent role of business dealings by Bobby Baker, former secretary to the Senate Democratic majority.

His election proposals call for American will be able to exercise the franchise.

"The right to vote is the most basic right of any American. That it is denied some of our citizens is nothing short of a national disgrace."

constitutional amendments to:

—Either cut senators' terms from six years to four years, coinciding with the terms of presidents, or lengthen the senatorial terms to eight years with half of the members to be elected every fourth year in presidential elections. The present system elects a third of the Senate to six-year terms in balloting every second year.

—Extend the terms of House members from two years to four years, coinciding with the terms of presidents.

Clark's proposed rules changes would put a crimp in long-winded Senate speeches, make senators stick more closely to the subject and knock out the controversial seniority system of selecting Senate committee chairmen. He would force committee chairmen to step down at age 70.

NEW PHONE SYSTEM USED BY PA. POLICE

By LAWRENCE MARGASAK
Associated Press Writer

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state police department formally activates Saturday a new communications system which it proclaims is the most efficient and modern anywhere.

Commissioner E. Wilson Purdy said the computerized system is expected to start functioning on its own at 8 a.m. Saturday.

"Right now we're running the new system with the old," explained Capt. Robert L. Bomboy, chief of the state police communications division. "Barring any bugs that may develop, the new system will be running on its own Saturday morning."

CITES ADVANTAGES

"Under the old system," said Bomboy, "We had to divide the state into zones, with each zone as a relay point. We've now eliminated the zones, because our communications complex in Harrisburg is a complete switch center for the entire state." He lists:

Laura S. Freed, New Oxford, age 61; widow, one child; member United Church of Christ; graduated local high school; bookkeeper, stenographer, chief clerk draft board; managed and operated produce business; serving as jury commissioner, treasurer Woman's Democratic Club of Adams Co.; treasurer, Salome Stewart Tent 55; Order of Eastern Star; Samaria Shrine, Order of Reindeer.

Republican candidate—one to be nominated.

Roy D. Renner, Littlestown R. 1, age 73; married, two children; member Lutheran Church; attended business school; wounded during World War I; hardware business for 40 years; clerk of courts for eight years; member Littlestown Development Co., Chamber of Commerce, Fish and Game Association, Inc.

35 New Drugs Aid Doctors In Fight To Control Cancer

EDITOR'S NOTE: This article, about the treatment of cancer with drugs and chemicals, is by Dr. Lowell T. Coggeshall, Frederick H. Rawson professor of medicine at the University of Chicago. It is fifth in a six-part series written by past presidents of the American Cancer Society, to coincide with the society's current Cancer Crusade. Dr. Coggeshall was ACS president in 1958.

By LOWELL T. COGGESHALL, M.D.

Written for The Associated Press
Of the great advances in medicine during the past three decades, went on:

"The computer system works as a private telephone line. We can now send a message to any station on the network, without anyone else seeing it. Before, everyone received the message, whether it concerned the individual police department or not."

"Then there's the general alarm. In the past, we could do two things to get the alarm on the network—either break in or broadcast the alarms at scheduled intervals. There was often a critical delay."

SYSTEM IS LEASED

"But the computer will broadcast the alarm immediately to those stations which are not sending anything. And for the stations that are tied up, it will store the information until they are free, and then send it out just to those stations."

"Many police departments will be interested in the stolen car journal. When a local department broadcasts a stolen car message, the computer lifts the pertinent data and stores it. Thus, any time a future stolen car message is sent, the computer tells the sender whether the car is on record as stolen."

The cost of the whole system? "We lease it for $18,000 a month," said Bomboy, "and this figure was arrived at by competitive bidding. But on the other hand, the large cost is offset by the 10 policemen the machine has released for other duties."

chemotherapy probably has been the most important.

Many new compounds now make it possible to control some of the major killers of the past and, by practically eliminating secondary infection, a whole new competence in medicine and surgery has developed.

At present there are about 35 drugs in physicians' hands which are used for about 40 different kinds of cancer. Possibly 200 more are in the advanced stages of testing in human patients on an experimental basis in 150 hospitals. Over 50,000 chemicals are being tested routinely in various types of experimental cancers in animals, particularly in mice, with some varieties exhibiting some anticancer effect.

COMMONLY USED

The most commonly used drugs were classified by the 1961 as:

1. Polyfunctional alkylating agents. These compounds prevent the normal function of a cell, thus inhibiting the growth of the cancer. Nitrogen mustard and quinine, an antimalarial compound, are two good examples.

2. The antimetabolites. These are essentially poisons performing as vitamins, amino acids or other essentials cellular chemicals which, in essence, entice the cell to absorb it as one of its normal constituents. Methotrexate, for example, is a counterfeit Vitamin B.

3. Isotopes. Touted because of the extraordinary success in the treatment of thyroid cancer with radioactive iodine, which selectively goes to that tissue. Attempts to induce other cancerous tissues to selectively absorb lethal radioactive materials have not been so successful.

SLOW PROCESSES

4. Steroid hormones. A large, ever-expanding group of natural biological substances produced by the endocrine glands, principally sex glands and adrenals, which have been quite useful in slowing down the cancerous process, in some instances for many years.

5. Finally, there is a list of unrelated compounds which include a plant extract, colchicine, urethane, an anesthetic, arsenic and some of the antibiotics.

Unlike the crash program in nuclear fission which led to the development of atomic energy, there is no specific avenue to follow in cancer chemotherapy which is blocked only by time and funds.

Basic research of a high order of excellence has revealed much about drug action on normal and neoplastic cells. Yet, whether the favorable effects are exerted on the host, the cancer cell, the combination or a variety of variables remains unknown.

If one looks to the future of chemotherapy there are many reasons for conservative optimism.

ENORMOUS ADVANCES

First and foremost are the enormous contributions of our fund of knowledge about the fundamental aspects of the development and metabolism of the cell. Probably the most important advance in this area is an understanding of the genetic code; this, together with the newer knowledge about the biochemistry and dynamic processes of cell growth, will make it possible eventually to understand how and perhaps why cancer arises and possibly to discover the right compound that can prevent its occurrence, or uproot it once established.

Next, some of today's best scientific minds in the country are intensively exploring cancer chemotherapy. Two or three decades ago, relatively speaking, there was little or no research in this field.

Finally, observations are accumulating that anticancer ac-

Suspended Star Will Rejoin Team

HARRISBURG (AP) — Wes Plummer, state champion athlete suspended from the John Harris High School track team, said Thursday night he hopes to rejoin the team next week.

Plummer was given a one-week suspension by coach Howard (Mickey) Minnich for failure to give adequate notice of his intention not to compete in the Penn Relays last weekend.

Minnich said Plummer informed him on Friday he would be unable to compete because he wanted to attend a church conference in Atlantic City, N.J.

Plummer last year won the PIAA class A 880-yard run title.

Thursday's Stars

BATTING — Norm Sieber, Orioles, hit a two-out, two-run homer in the eighth inning giving Baltimore a 5-4 comeback victory over Washington.

PITCHING — Don Drysdale, Dodgers, outdueling Juan Marichal, allowing only four hits in Los Angeles' 2-1 victory over San Francisco.

Activity is being discovered in a variety of unrelated chemicals and other substances. This in itself leads one to expect that more effective compounds remain to be discovered.

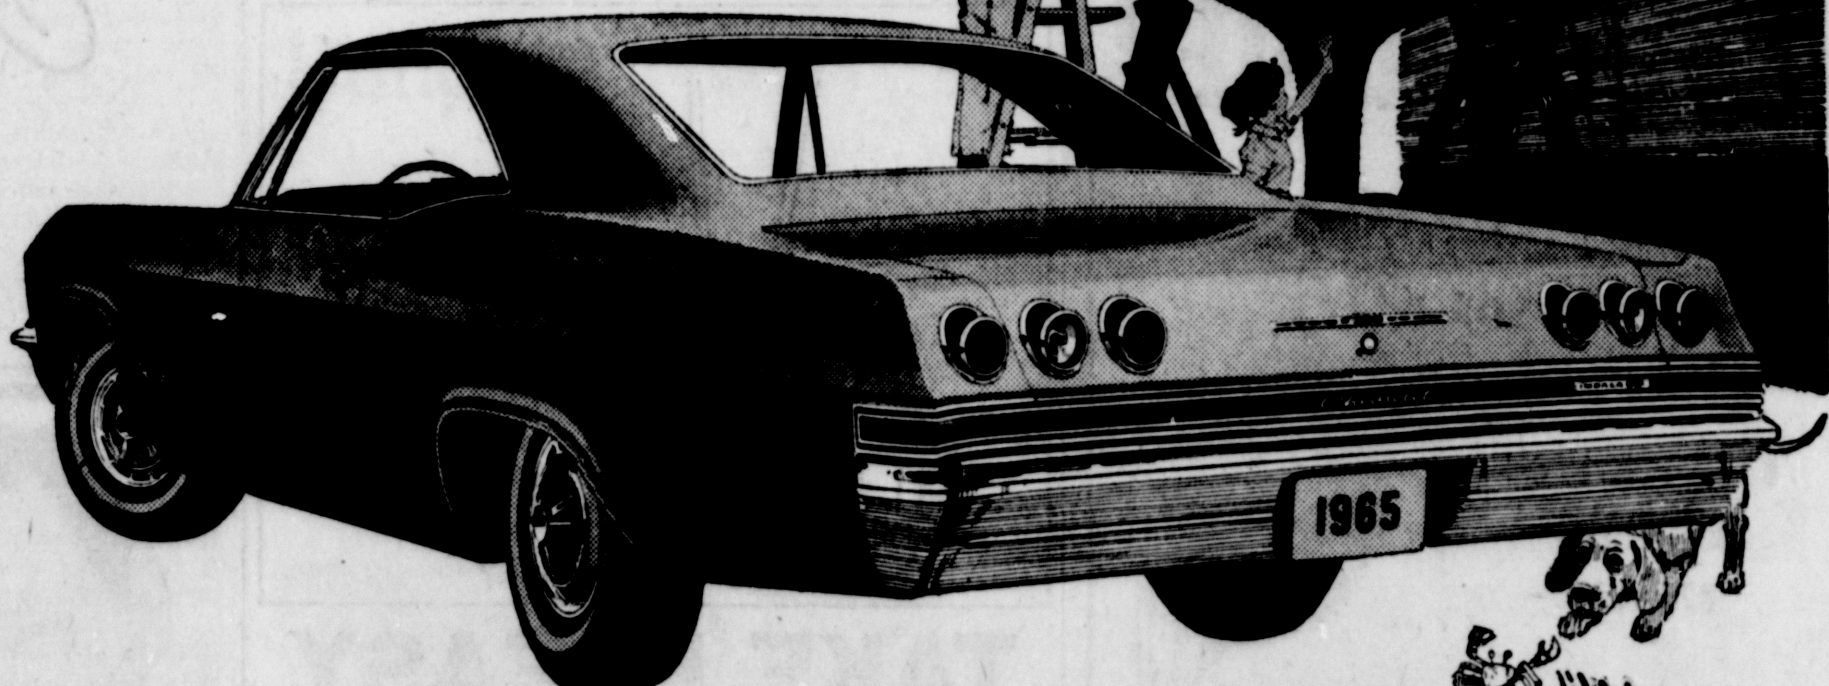

The expectation that a chemical compound will selectively destroy a cancer cell in the midst of normal tissue is no more unreasonable than to have expected that a synthesized compound would be able to destroy a virulent bacterium in the human body or an obnoxious weed in a beautiful lawn.

Zing into spring! Chevrolet Impala

Chevrolet Impala Super Sport Coupe—one of two bucket-seated beauties for '65.

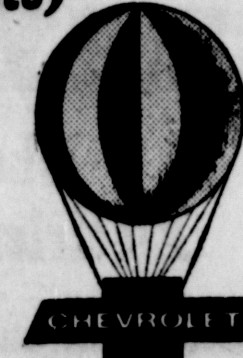

People who buy other big expensive-looking cars get one thing you won't (big expensive-looking payments)

It looks like a big car. And is—by almost any standard, you want to apply.

Width? Nobody builds a car as much as one inch wider. Length? It grew three inches this year. Roominess? Every closed model's got three inches more shoulder room, front and rear, and more leg and foot room up front too. Luxury? Nice little touches like the look of mellow walnut across the Impala's instrument panel. And big touches. Like the fineness of the same Body by Fisher workmanship that makes some of America's most expensive cars look so expensive. How about the ride? Chevrolet engineers took the Jet-smooth one and smoothed it out even more this year. Also made it more stable by widening the wheel stance. Custom features? You can personalize your Chevrolet all you want because there are nearly 200 custom features to choose from. Price? That's where Chevrolets fall way short of the other big expensive-looking cars. But we wouldn't have it any other way. Would you?

One last question: How soon can you make a good spring buy on a Chevrolet? One last answer: Just as soon as you can get down to your Chevrolet dealer's.

HIGH TIME TO TRADE

Belt Styles Add To Fashion; Should Be Chosen With Care

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Adams County Extension
Home Economist

Belts are civilization's most lasting accessory. At first, men and women found belts useful to keep clothes from falling off. They discovered belts were a perfect anchor for knives, purses, pistols, keys, money and other small-size personal belongings.

MRS. TUNISON

Then came fashion. The belt became a thing of beauty and the costume was built around it. Today, belt styling is subtle and distinctive. Even so, certain belts go with certain figures. A belt more than two inches wide is made to order for a tiny waist, but is less flattering to a large waist. A wrapped belt is effective on a shapely figure, and is most flattering to the straight up and down or "big-boned" figure. Not only is the wrapped belt comfortable to wear, but it adds shape where there isn't much. The narrow belt is always good for the short-waisted or the thick-waisted woman, for it marks rather than accents.

A contemporary design, the patchwork belt which features a crazy mixture of silk and satin pieces, can add a bright note to a plain dress or blouse and skirt.

HOUSE STYLES

If you are in the market for buying a house, do a lot of looking before signing on the line. Check into the advantages of all types of houses, including builder's pre-fabricated, pre-cut and shell houses.

The builder's house is usually inexpensive since quantity cuts costs. Varying from poor to excellent, these houses will be only as good as the quality the builder puts into them.

Pre-fabricated houses come in many styles, including luxury models, so look at various manufacturer's models. Keep transportation costs in mind. If a pre-fabricated house must be transported a long distance, the savings made by mass production may be lost.

Pre-cut houses often are reasonable because of quantity production and partial assembly at the plant.

If someone in the family is good with tools and can do some of the work himself, a shell house may be wise choice. When financing a shell house, be sure the mortgage covers the cost for materials needed to finish the house. Otherwise this money may be hard to come by.

As an alternate, choose a stock plan and have a builder do the construction. Stock plans are planned by architects, are reasonable and often come with the listings of materials needed, so the builder can accurately estimate the cost.

If you desire a custom-built house with a lot of individuality, you can hire an architect, but you must plan for the additional cost of his services.

Chinese Appoint New U.S. Envoy

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Nationalist Chinese Cabinet named Chou Shu-kai ambassador to Washington Thursday. He succeeds Tingfu F. Tsiang.

Formosa's largest newspaper, the United Daily News, said Tuesday that Tsiang had resigned.

Chou, 52, has been ambassador to Spain since 1962.

Mexico produced 41 million ounces of silver in 1964.

VOLUNTEERS HELP AMISH TO REBUILD

SHIPSHAWANA, Ind. (AP)—A barn a day has become the byword of scores of Amish and Mennonite volunteers who streamed into northern Indiana to aid victims of Palm Sunday tornadoes.

Amish around Lancaster, Pa., organized a 150-man force to come to Amish communities in Lagrange, Elkhart and St. Joseph counties to repair and replace homes and farm buildings.

The first group of 50 arrived this week and started the priority work of rebuilding the huge, two-story barns characteristic of the sect. An advance survey crew set the goal of one barn restored a day.

USE MODERN TOOLS

Other volunteers of both the Amish and Mennonite faiths have come from Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, Michigan, Virginia, Maryland and Canada.

Identified by their strict codes of conduct and plain dress, followers rown on modern labor-saving machinery. Nevertheless, the complete devastation in some communities has lessened compliance. The bearded volunteers are manning power saws to get the job done more quickly. They welcome the friendly neighbor farmer who supplies a bulldozer.

MORE WILL HELP

The Lancaster volunteers are living with Amish families who escaped the vicious storms that left 134 persons dead and hundreds injured in Indiana. They stay through the week, returning home on Friday. Leaders plan to shuttle alternating groups of about 50 workers by bus each week until the reconstruction is complete.

The Amish do not subscribe to commercial insurance institutions, but maintain their own,

Britain Asks New Move To Arms Cut

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Britain has called for a new approach to the reduction of existing nuclear weapons to lower safer and less-costly levels so the order and stability of the world could be assured.

Lord Chalfont, in a major policy speech outlining the disarmament objectives of Britain's Labor government, told the 11-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission Wednesday that priority must be placed on halting and reversing "the direction of the present uncontrolled arms race."

Chalfont is minister of state for disarmament.

AP ASKS NEWS LINE IN SPACE

NEW YORK (AP)—In the first such move by a news service, The Associated Press has applied for a communications channel through space to add to its worldwide facilities for distributing news.

The AP's application for service direct from the Communications Satellite Corp. (COMSAT) has not been acted upon by the Federal Communications Commission.

Federal legislation permitting establishment of a public corporation for communications by satellite authorized COMSAT to furnish circuits "to the carrier and to other authorized entities."

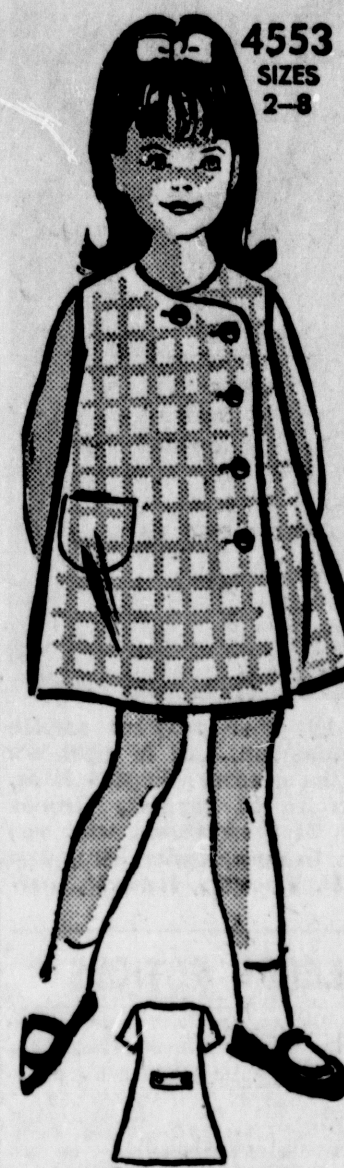

The AP application was filed April 15.

Harry T. Montgomery, AP deputy general manager, said in a letter that AP now uses telephone lines, undersea cables and radio. He said AP "is actively seeking improved international communications facilities especially in areas not directly served via cable from the United States."

based mainly on muscle. Families contribute small sums to a central committee for purchasing supplies when destruction hits. The principal ingredient is the labor which is volunteered.

There are 3,072 counties in the United States.

BIG THREE IN STEEL EARN HIGH PROFITS

NEW YORK (AP)—The Big Three steelmakers earned the highest profits in several years in the first quarter of 1965.

Steel producers operated at capacity during the period to meet heavy demand for current use and for stockpiling in the event of a May 1 strike.

The strike deadline was extended four months this week.

U.S. Steel Corp., No. 1 steelmaker, earned $73,772,849, or $1.25 a share, in the first quarter, up 43 percent from $51,546,002, or 84 cents a share, a year earlier. This was the highest since income of $80.9 million in the second quarter of 1960. Sales rose 29 percent to $1,150,375,259.

from $888,994,392. Second-ranking Bethlehem Steel Corp. enjoyed its best period since the fourth quarter of 1961. It earned $44,132,000, or 97 cents a share, against $28,505,000, from $506,593,000. Steel shipments of 5,704,000 tons were the highest for any quarter.

Republic Steel Corp., No. 3 producer, had profits totaling $23,276,168, or $1.48 a share, compared with $15,772,262, or $1 a share, in the 1964 first quarter. Sales increased to $373,317,433 from $288,421,898.

Orders Diplomatic Speeders Banned

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—New Jersey Turnpike authorities have ordered foreign officials who speed to be banished from the busy superhighway.

William J. Flanagan, the turnpike's executive director, has ordered state troopers to usher off the road speeders protected by diplomatic immunity.

There have been 44 speeding violations by diplomatic cars on the 118-mile turnpike in the past nine years, and in five cases the cars were going more than 100 miles an hour, Flanagan said. The speed limit is 60 m.p.h.

The turnpike is a link in a direct highway route between New York and Washington.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP)—An auto and a truck collided on Tuesday killing the car driver, Theodore F. Haller, 83 of Doylestown. Truck driver Joseph Mariani, 26, Norristown, was uninjured.

NEW RELIGION HAS APPEAL FOR MILLION

By HAL MCCLURE.
HAIFA, Israel (AP) — This land that saw the beginnings of both Judaism and Christianity also is the world center of a new religion founded in a Moslem country. It is called Baha'.

There are said to be well over a million Baha' in nearly 300 countries, territories and possessions — in fact, every country of the world except a few Soviet republics. The largest number is in Iran, where the faith started more than 100 years ago. It is not officially recognized there today.

The religion has appeal, its leaders say, among both the old established nations and the developing ones. Members include American educators, Canadian Eskimos, Japanese businessmen and Indian doctors. Its teachings have been translated into 270 languages and dialects.

SHRINE AT HAIFA
A golden-domed shrine set amid gardens on the slopes of Mt. Carmel in Haifa is the world headquarters of the faith. Beneath the dome lie the remains of "The Bab" — The Gate — the martyr-herald of the faith, who was executed by the Persians in 1850 because of his religious teachings.

Before his death, The Bab predicted a promised one would some day lead the faithful. This right was claimed by the son of a Tehran Cabinet minister, Mirza Husayn Ali, who took the name of Baha'u'Llah — Glory to God.

DIED IN 1892
Baha'u'Llah was exiled to Baghdad, and later was moved to Constantinople — modern Istanbul — and Adrianople before his final imprisonment at Akko in Palestine.

He was still under virtual Turkish house arrest at nearby Bahji when he died in 1892 at the age of 75.

The Baha' honor and respect all the world's great religions. They believe that God educates mankind through a series of prophets who appear at intervals in man's history: Moses, Zoroaster, Buddha, Christ, Mohammed — and now Baha'u'Llah.

MAIN TEACHINGS
The faith teaches compulsory education, equality of men and women and elimination of all forms of prejudice. The Baha' find no contradiction between science and religion. They believe in the eventual unity of mankind and world peace. In time there will be a world order, world economy, one race and one religion under God.

There are 69 national Baha' assemblies, comprised of local spiritual assemblies in 1,500 centers. The national groups elect the ruling body. The Universal House of Justice is comprised of four Americans, three Iranians, two Britons.

Whooping Cranes Head For Canada

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 42nd and last member of a flock of wild whooping cranes has left its winter home in Texas.

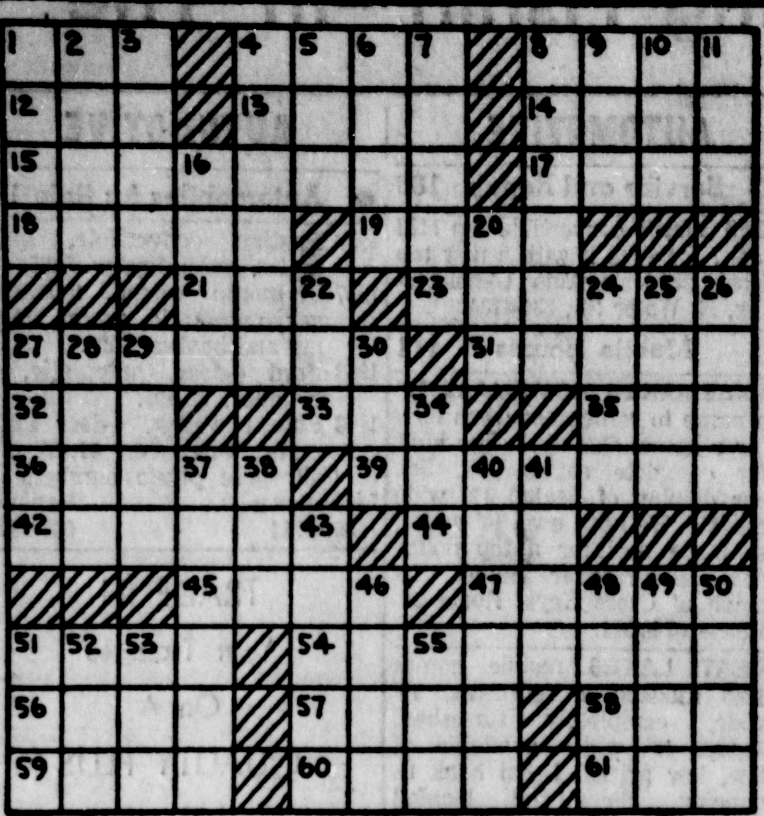

The Interior Department said Thursday that the annual exodus from the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge on the Gulf Coast began April 8 or 9. The birds spend their summers in Canada.

Pope Asks "Conversations And Negotiations" On All Levels To Curb War Threat

By EUGENE LEVIN
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI appealed today for "conversations and negotiations at all levels" to avert the threat of war. He made his plea in the second encyclical letter of his reign.

The pontiff said the international situation is "darker and more uncertain than ever, now that grave new threats are endangering the supreme benefit of world peace."

He did not mention specific world trouble spots by name. But he spoke of "unspeakable sufferings caused by agitation, guerrilla warfare, acts of war, ever growing in extent and intensity, which could at any moment produce a spark for a terrible fresh conflict."

CALLS FOR PRAYERS
The reference seemed to apply particularly to Viet Nam.

The 2,000-word encyclical was titled "Mense Maio" — the month of May — from the first two words of its Latin text.

Addressing all Roman Catholics, Pope Paul urged prayers for world peace and for the success of the second Vatican Ecumenical Council, which resumes for its final session Sept. 14.

He noted that the month of May is especially dedicated to devotion to the Virgin Mary, and exhorted his flock:

"So, venerable brothers, let our prayers ascend to Mary in this month of hers."

DEMAND FOR PEACE
"We beg all who hold responsibility in public life not to remain deaf to the unanimous desire of mankind which wants peace," the Pope said.

"We ask that they do all in their power to preserve the peace that is threatened, and continue at all time to foster and encourage conversations and negotiations at all levels, that the dangerous resort to force with all its lamentable consequences, material, spiritual and moral, may be halted."

Pope Paul called for respect of law and human values, he attacked guerrilla warfare, terrorism and reprisals in these words:

RED WARFARE
"We cannot fail to raise our voice in defense of the dignity of man and of Christian civilization. We cannot fail to condemn acts of guerrilla warfare and of terrorism, the practice of holding hostages and of taking reprisals against unarmed civilians."

"These are crimes which not only reverse the development of the sense of what is fair and humane, but also embitter even more the hearts of those in conflict."

"These outrages can block the paths still open to mutual good will or at least can render more difficult negotiations which, if conducted with openness and fairness, could lead to a reasonable settlement."

ABEL HEADS STEEL UNION

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Challenger I.W. Abel was declared today the official winner of a bitter fight for president of the miller-member United Steelworkers Union.

Union tellers announced Abel, of the USW, beat long-time President David J. McDonald by 10,142 votes in the Feb. 9 election.

Neither Abel nor McDonald was present at a news conference where the results were reported. Both were expected to have statements later.

The tellers' report said Abel polled 308,910 votes and McDonald 298,768.

The main question now is whether McDonald, head of the union since 1962, will seek a

Seeks Approval Of Federal Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. commissioner of the Delaware River Basin Commission has asked a Senate appropriations subcommittee to approve a $96,000 grant—$4,000 more than last year—as the federal share of the commission's proposed budget.

Vernon D. Northrop, the U.S. commissioner, asked the subcommittee Thursday to approve $140,000 toward operation of the commission during the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The $96,000 would be the federal share of the proposed $447,000 budget. The rest would be provided by the states of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware.
